Dr. Balagopal Fourth Endowment Lecture

Dr. Gopal Guru

The fourth Endowment Lecture in memory of Human Rights Crusader for Just Society Dr. K. Balagopal was held at Kakatiya University on 8th October, 2013 in the Senate Hall. Professor in Centre for Political Studies of New Delhi, JNU, Dr. Gopal Guru delivered the lecture on "Who is a Dalit?: An Enquiry into Social Discourse." Dalit is not a caste related term but a sociologically constituted one, Dr. Gopal Guru said. People not only subjected to social injustice but also those who are fighting against it in the process of rectification are dalits, he asserted. It is a term associated with practice rather than birth. In this aspect Dr. Balagopal is a true Dalit, he said. Balgopal wrote, spoke and practiced social justice throughout his life, he said. He took the side of downtrodden and upheld social justice and freedom. Dalit could be understood based on two criteria - truth and meaning. A capitalist can never be a dalit since he exploits his own brothers, he said. Making a comparison, he said that Scheduled Caste is a term constituted by the state and disciplined by the state while Harijan comes under patronizing category. The book entitled "Reservation lo Prajaswamy Drukpatham" - a collection of Telugu articles of Dr. K. Balagopal was released. University Vice-Chancellor Prof. B. Venkat Rathnam advised the students to emulate Dr. Balagopal. Dr. Haragopal said that Hyderabad Perspectives published forty nine books to propagate the ideology of Dr. Balagopal. Prof. V.S. Prasad, Prof. K. Sayulu, Prof. K. Seetharama Rao and others took part in the Endowment Lecture programme.
